Zoom with a tablet

2 options are available to you:

If you click on the meeting link in your email, the meeting room will open directly at step 4 or 5, without going through the opening interface. This will take you directly to the meeting room (or waiting room), which is easier for you.

Alternatively, you can also enter the information manually as showed in the following steps;

Interface without a Zoom Account

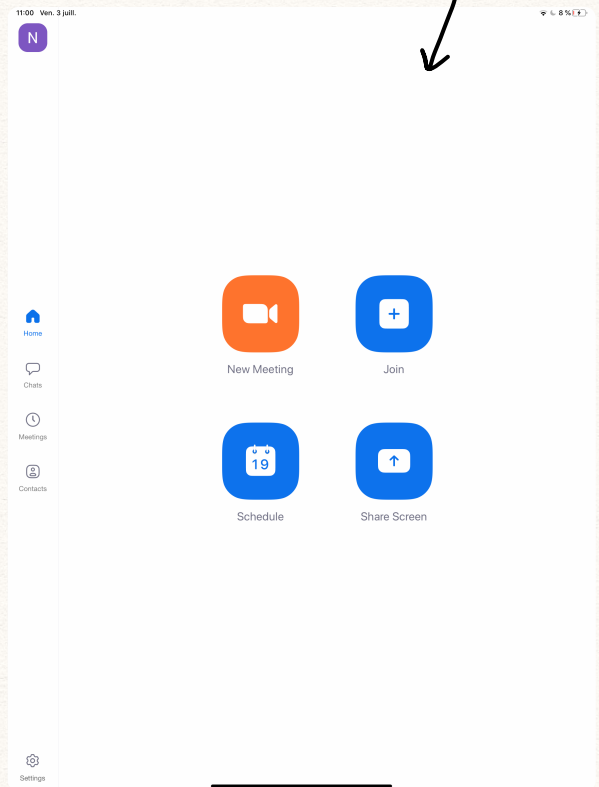

Step 1

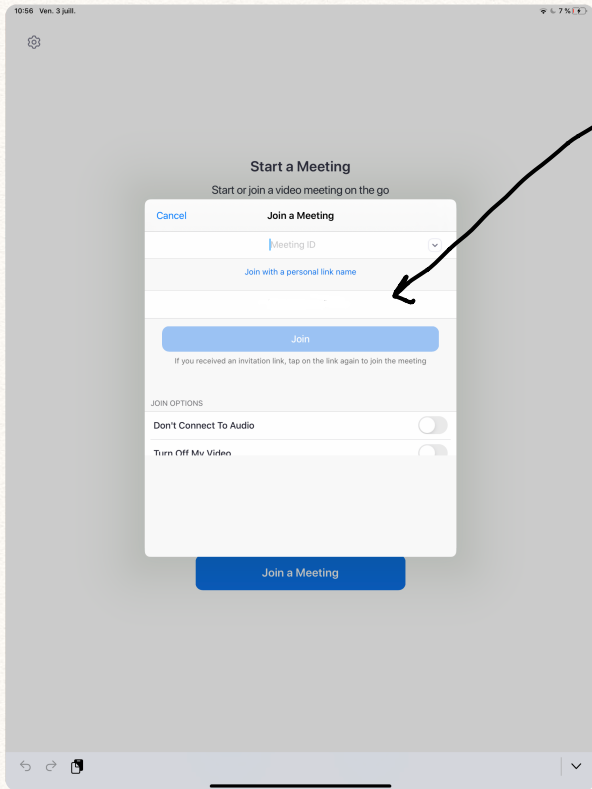

You do not need to create a Zoom account to attend meetings. If you have one, you can log in or are probably logged in by default.

Either way, just click Join or Join Meeting, depending on which interface you see.

Interface with a Zoom account

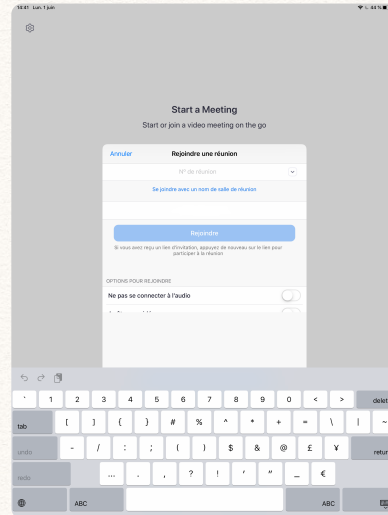

Step 1

Enter the Meeting ID using your keyboard, which will appear at the bottom of your screen after you click the Meeting ID field.

The meeting number/Meeting ID can be found in your confirmation email or will have been given to you specifically.

Step 2

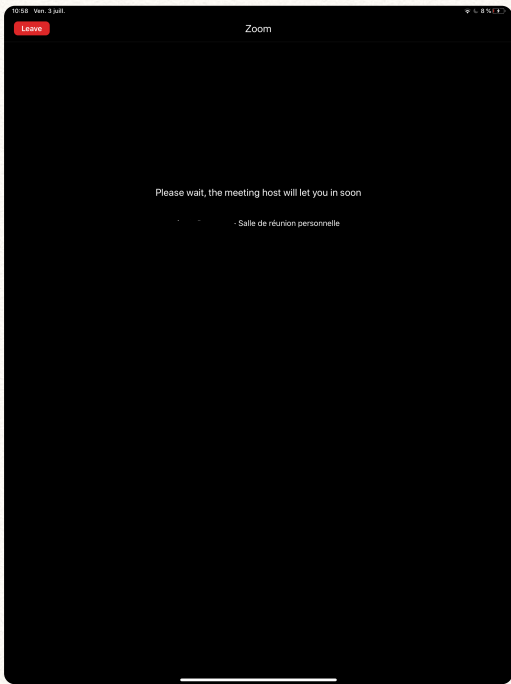

All that is left to do is enter the password.

The password can be found in your confirmation email or will have been given to you specifically.

Step 3

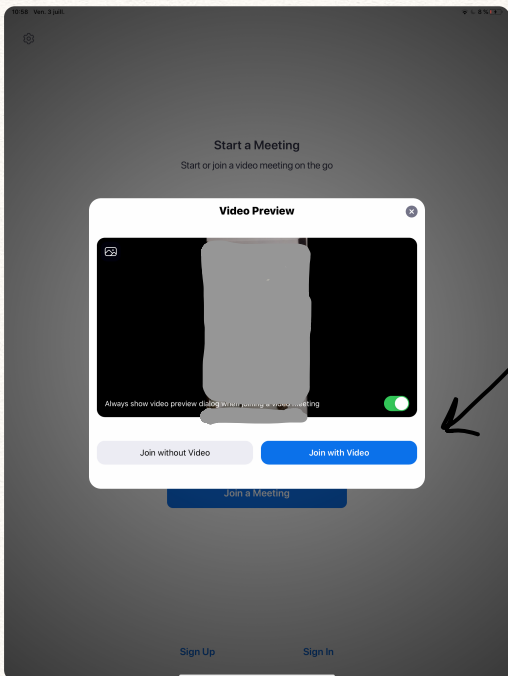

Step 4

This or a similar interface may appear to you if the meeting host has enabled the waiting room to manually let attendees in.

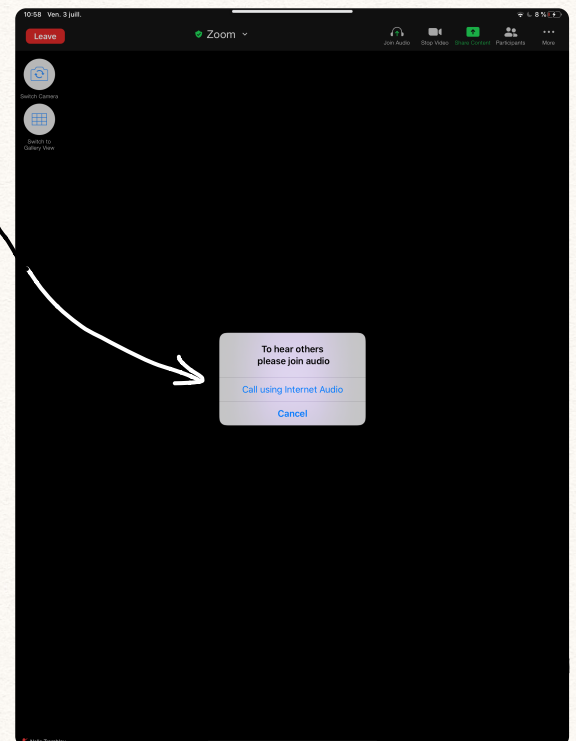

This is a good sign, just wait until they let you in!

Click Join with video or Join without video, which you can later activate manually.

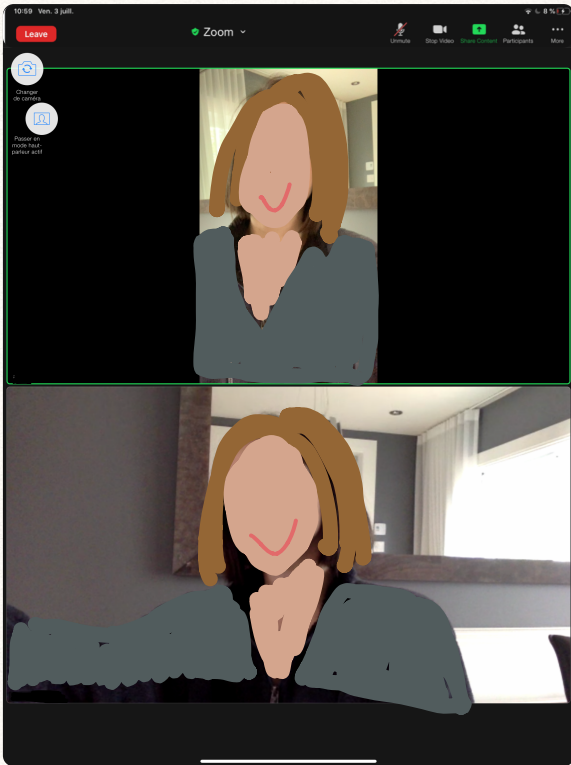

Step 5

This step is crucial because it will allow you to hear and be heard in the meeting. So click on Call using Internet Audio to connect to the audio.

Step 6

You're all set!

Here is your Zoom interface!

Here you can see an example of a 2 person meeting. If you join a group, there will be several small screens.

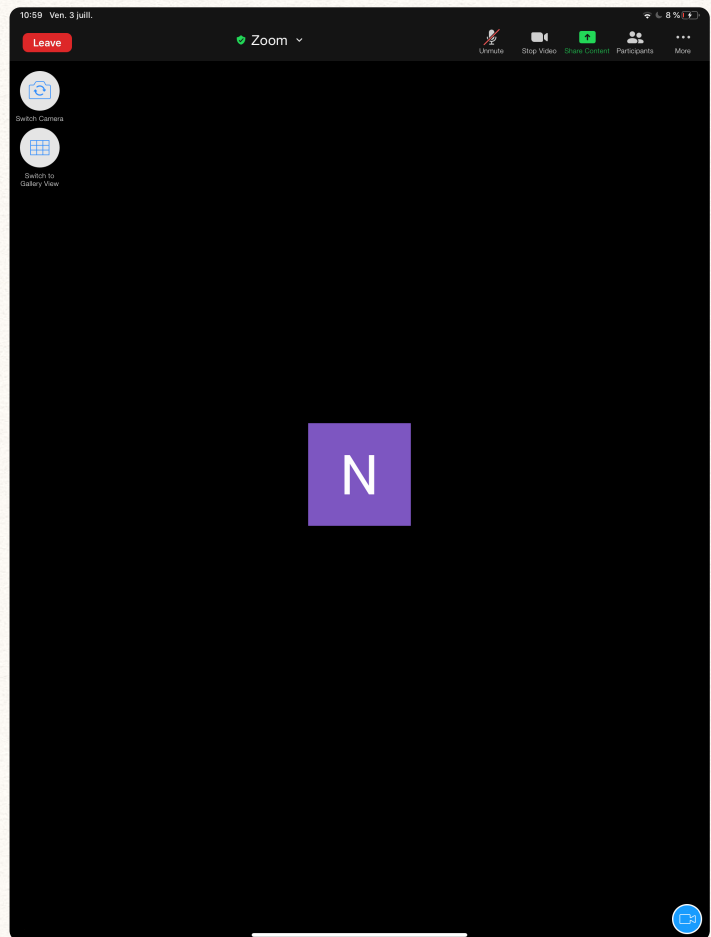

In order to see all the screens at the same time, we suggest that you switch to gallery view by clicking here

From your screen, you can choose to Start /Stop Video

...and Mute and Unmute your mic

The red slash indicates that it is disabled.

To leave the meeting, you can click on Leave in red

To access the chat, click on the top right on ...
More

The chat will allow you to communicate with meeting participants in writing.

Thank you, and have a good meeting!
